First Presbyterian Church of Granbury

May, 2020

Somewhere in Spain, along the route of el Camino de Santiago, there is a sign posted that says, “Sometimes we find ourselves in the middle of nowhere and sometimes in the middle of nowhere we find ourselves.” I love the wordplay. I love the idea. I love that I am beginning to understand what it means.

I’ve always wanted to walk el Camino. I understand from the handful of folk I know who have journeyed the route that it is a marvelous spiritual venture. Those who do the entire walk will cover 500 miles and walk for 30-35 days straight. Some of the trail is challenging, other parts not. The pilgrims meet people from all corners of the earth and are enriched by those with whom they share the experience. There is much time to think along the way – to take in the quiet and to soak up the grandeur of God’s creation. The experience often leads to new understandings of self and to one’s connection to the world and faith. I have dreamed of walking it. Maybe one day. I think it’s good to spend some time in the middle of nowhere.

I’ve felt a bit lately like I’m in the middle of nowhere. I love the line from the old song Wildwood Weed: “We thought it was kind of handy, take a trip and never leave the farm.” (Never mind what the song’s about – it’s a great line!) Sometimes I don’t have to go anywhere to feel like I’m in the middle of nowhere. At times life simply takes me there. It’s not the same as venturing across Spain with intentionality but if I pay attention to my surroundings there are things to be learned about myself and my world and my relationship with God. I imagine you may know well what I’m talking about.

These past four months have felt to me a bit like wandering in the middle of nowhere. We’ve experienced death in our family. Rhonda has had an uncle and an aunt die this year and another beloved uncle of hers is in hospice care. Our son was hospitalized last month with serious complications and continues to have issues. We have been living in the midst of a world on pause because of

From the pastor

Rev. Drew Travis

COVID-19. That has altered our ability to interact with one another as we normally do and that, in itself, has made so many of us feel as though we are alone in the middle of nowhere.

The most recent detour to the route I had planned to walk this year is that my younger brother entered hospice care last week. We all knew it was coming and we spoke fairly openly about it. I think we operated under the illusion that if we spoke honestly it might not occur. We were wrong. Karl has endured much in recent years and he has been a model of faith as he has confronted his disease. I am impressed by his faith and am moved by his willingness to trust God. I am a fan.

In it all, here in the middle of nowhere, I am learning to trust God in the same manner. I understand the only control I have in this is to believe God is in control. Karl has taught me to do so. I trust that is true. That is a decision of my faith. I am grateful. I don’t feel so alone and I feel a bit like I’m back on the beaten path. I know God is good – all the time.

Care well for yourselves and for one another,

Drew

MAY PRAYER OF THE MONTH

At sunrise on Easter morning I stepped out my front door and shouted "Christ has risen! Christ has risen, indeed!" I knew other church members and other community members were outside doing the same thing, but none were close by and, frankly, I felt like a voice crying in the wilderness. Without our community, don't we all feel like we are wandering alone in a place that could be dangerous? That, of course, is why Drew and Brenda and so many others are working hard to connect us with other media. If you cannot figure out how to tune in and join the new worshipping experience, let someone know and maybe we can figure out a way to help. If you have a phone that can connect to the internet, you can get church services from several sources.

But, back to Easter, I have missed announcing that Christ Has Risen! this year, repeatedly, like we usually do during our Easter service. I found myself telling my dogs the week following the resurrection that Christ had risen. (If you have dogs or cats, you are not talking to yourself.) I still don't have it out of my system. Jubilation was stunted somehow because we couldn't wrap our congregation, extended families and friends around us. And, because of our concern for people who were very ill, their families who couldn't be with them, and the beleaguered hospital workers. And, because of our concern for the health of our country. Not just economical health, but it's cohesiveness and its spirit in overcoming adversity. Were any of you distracted from Easter by the pandemic, the isolation, the inflamed rhetoric?

We are what we are and no one knows us better than our Savior. His death ransomed us from our sins even thousands of years later. Let's all remind ourselves to celebrate Easter constantly. The phrase "We are Easter people" can have new depth for us because our jubilation has been quieter and lasted longer this year. Let Easter linger long enough to germinate inside us. Tend the renewed growth as you would any beautiful thing: faithfully, tenderly, and lovingly.

Father We deny our fear even to ourselves. Because of that denial, we don't turn to you for succor. Constant preoccupation with the panoply of images and information keeps our hearts uneasy and we miss occasions to celebrate you, only you. Forgive us, Father, for the ways we fail to express our thankfulness and adoration. Bless us, Father. Keep us safe and strong, committed in love and service to you. Help us eradicate the virus that appears to be controlling our life. Let all of us find some way to lift up those around us and bless the world by being your worthy agent. We pray for all who need our prayers for recovery from illness, for financial help for those who lost their jobs, for clarity of thought for those who can't handle stress and find themselves confused and worried, for those who feel themselves in danger from misdirected anger pervading the atmosphere near them. Bring new Christians to us Father, so we may embrace them as new brothers and sisters in Christ.

We pray all these things in your name.

Amen

I would normally be using this space to provide church attendance numbers for the past 4 weeks. However, because of the abnormal times that we currently find ourselves experiencing, I will be providing the number of “views” that our Virtual Worship services have logged. A “view” is when someone opens one of our streaming/recorded services with any of many different electronic devices either through YouTube or Facebook. As you will see from the numbers, we have been able to provide virtual worship services not only to members and friends of FPC, Granbury, but also to viewers throughout the world on YouTube and Facebook. The following provides a snapshot of attendance by view:

Sunday Services	YouTube	Facebook	Total		Holy Week	YouTube	Facebook	Total
03/22/2020	350	26	376		Mon	87	125	212

A big “THANK YOU” for making our Virtual Worship an uplifting and spiritual experience goes to Pastor Drew, Associate Pastor Brenda, Nancy Worcester & Waco, Marty Gump, Jane Seley, Rev. Dave & Dennie Treat, Rev. Doug Travis, and Emily Graham & Sherry Johnson for special music. A very special “THANK YOU” goes to Emily Graham for her many dedicated hours spent recording, editing, and posting each service, Holy Week Devotions, and pastor updates!

Worship

Julie Dean, elder

juliebutlerdean@gmail.com

Like all of you, I miss worshipping together in our sanctuary. I am grateful that our church was forward thinking enough to already have everything in place for us to have such an easy transition into online worship. We will certainly sing for joy when we are together again! On the first Sunday we are able to worship in the sanctuary we will be "Flowering the Cross" in celebration. Everyone is encouraged to bring flowers to place on the cross.

I recently spoke with Martha Ferrill who is in a senior living community in League City. She asked that I let everyone know that she misses the church and loves you all. She shared with me many fond memories of her years in the church. Like so many, she is alone and quarantined, unable to see or have outings with her daughter. If you would like to drop a note or call her the contact information is: 500 Enterprise Ave., #250, League City, TX 77573, phone 281-549-6066.

*May the road rise up to meet you,
May the wind be always at your back,
May the sun shine warm upon your face,
May the rains fall soft upon your fields,
And until we meet again,
May God hold you in the palm of His hand.

Membership

Covid19 has brought challenges to all of us with the shelter in place mandate. Despite all of this, there have been quite a few “silver linings” that have developed from it. Maybe you have been forced to learn a lot more about technology than you thought possible before. Maybe you are now ordering your groceries or restaurant pickup service on line for the first time. Maybe you are making FaceTime or Zoom calls with the kids or grandkids for the first time. Maybe you are thinking in new and creative ways how to get tasks done or avoid “cabin fever”. Maybe you have finished some long awaited chores at home, read some books, worked a jigsaw puzzle, or gone for a walk.

The Membership Committee has been meeting challenges as well. Since we had to postpone the dinner for prospective members, we have been trying to keep up with the interested church visitors, via phone calls, email, and USPS mail, depending on what contact info was available. It’s been a wonderful opportunity to show visitors what a truly loving and caring congregation we are. It’s also encouraging to see the number of people who are “doing church together” by tuning into our online services each week.

All church family members can also help themselves and others stay connected by calling another church member to say hello and ask how they are doing. Hopefully, you are already connecting with your best friends. So try calling someone whom you have greeted in church, but may not be that well acquainted with yet. You may be the best ray of sunshine they get all day! It comes with a guarantee to make your day happier, too!

May 2020 Bridge Article

Margaret Gulinson

mgulinson@gmail.com 682-936-2312 (H) 214-868-7455 (C)

As I write this article, there is no telling what the month of May will bring us. Our PW activities will continue to be cancelled until further notice. Thank you to those of you who are actively helping with the needs in our community.

In looking forward to the Fall, when I learned the title of the 2020-2021 Horizon's Bible Study, I thought, "Oh no! What a depressing study this will be." But after listening to the author's YouTube video, I am excited to study it. Our world certainly has many things to lament these days. This study, "Into the Light: Finding Hope through Prayers of Lament", is written by P. Lynn Miller. She points out that as we look at our own daily lives in this difficult year, we can certainly find things that we need to talk to God about. Some things just don't align with our idea of God's purpose for this world. Dee Koza, one of the study leaders, writes that "lament usually leads to hope. After crying out to God ... the lamenter is strengthened to face the world and to hope. Hope implies movement: both God's inherent movement toward justice and our movement toward God. Recovering lament may be one of the church's most timely gifts to the world." Please go to this YouTube video to see the author's witty and humorous presentation of her study.

<https://youtu.be/xJrivFqtuo8>

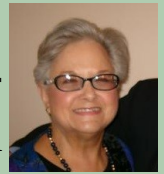

Another reason I am excited to study it is that Rev. Brenda Church will be teaching our Bible Study Class next fall. What a wonderful benefit of having an Associate Pastor! Carol Boyd Althouse, we want to thank you for your many years devoted to leading our Bible Study. You are precious to each one of us and you have enriched our lives with your devotion to learning, and sharing it with us. You are a terrific role model and encourage us to be as well. We are very blessed to have had you as our teacher for so many years. Thank You!

Let's pray for each other for courage, health and calmness to endure these few months of uncertainty while we cannot get together because of the pandemic restrictions.

May the peace of Jesus Christ be with you.

Fellowship

Linda Allen, elder lindaallen33047@gmail.com

Fellowship has many different meanings. It can mean big get-togethers like our Fourth of July BBQ, or our Christmas Chili Luncheon. Or it can mean visiting on social media, finding joy in seeing videos of our church member's children and grandchildren, or visiting with each other on the phone. It can mean watching our worship services on YouTube and marveling at how close we feel to each other and Drew and Brenda. Fellowship can mean reaching out and saying I need a mask, I need prayer, I need help with groceries. Your session met together on a Zoom meeting and we fellowshiped!

So, don't be sad. We are getting together in all of these imaginative ways for a very good reason. We are taking care of ourselves and each other. Staying home, social distancing, and wearing masks are all excellent ways to take care of each other. If I can stay well and you can stay well, we will be able to return to "normal" just that much sooner! What that normal will look like is something the session is working on. There won't be any finger food luncheons for a while. Can we sing with masks on? There are lots of questions, but one thing is certain. We will fellowship!

Easter Gifts to our Neighbors

We delivered 22 Easter gift bags to families at the Housing Authority. We included chocolate candy, Easter eggs, Easter crafts some small gifts for the children. We also shipped word search and crossword puzzle books for the elderly and disabled residents. We have been looking for ways to help our neighbors while maintaining social distancing.

Associate Pastor

Rev. Brenda Church

rev.brenda.church@gmail.com

What? You thought Easter was OVER? Not even close. Easter Sunday, which we celebrated quite a bit differently this year, happened on April 12th. But Easter Sunday is really just the BEGINNING of Easter! Easter is actually a season. The Eastertide season lasts 50 days from Easter Sunday through Pentecost Sunday, which, this year, falls on May 31st! I think we can all agree that one day out of a whole year is surely not enough time for us to celebrate the greatest event and the greatest gift of all time...Jesus resurrected! And I think you will all agree that this year's Easter Sunday felt like a bit of a letdown. But let us remember that this year, we might have experienced the most "true to Easter" Easter Sunday of our lives. We were huddled in our homes, much like the disciples were huddled in hidden places... unsure, afraid, confused, disappointed! The good news of Jesus' resurrection was only revealed to a few on that first Easter day. Most came to recognize Jesus, risen and alive, during the Eastertide season...those 50 days leading to Pentecost. All through the original Eastertide season, Jesus revealed himself to more and more people for really only two purposes, I think. First, to bring glory to God, and second, to prepare people for the work of proclaiming the Gospel to all the nations. Those first evangelists needed to believe beyond any shadow of a doubt that Jesus was risen since they were to birth the Church of Jesus Christ!

You know, we are still called to be proclaimers of the Gospel. So, what shall we do with an Easter season that is so different from all the rest? I think we do just what the followers of Jesus did that first Easter season. They were afraid for their lives...waiting for the all-clear. They allowed themselves to feel their disappointment. They came together as brothers and sisters in Christ to share their stories of Jesus. They became still and quiet, not knowing what their next move should be. They listened for Jesus' instructions. They waited. They wondered. They healed. And then, one day, that first Pentecost, it all became clear! The Holy Spirit blew through that gathering place with a wind unmistakably from God! Tongues of fire lit above the heads of those gathered...those who were being anointed to carry on Jesus' work. And the Holy Spirit found a home in the hearts and souls of these believers. Peter stood up and preached a sermon that brought the people to their knees in repentance and that day over 3,000 were brought into the Kingdom of Heaven! Wow!

Like I said...I think maybe this is our time to do much of the same. As we await the all clear, let us feel and express our disappointment. Let us come together and share stories about how God has been faithful to us in the past. Let us be still and quiet, considering what God may be calling us to do. May we listen. May we wait. May we wonder. May we be truly healed, in every way. One day, it will all become clear! Let us spend this time looking for ways that God is showing up. Let us spend this time allowing God to transform us more into the image of Christ. Let us open our hearts, our minds, our hands, and our feet, to a renewed understanding and impartation of the power of the Holy Spirit.

Christ is RISEN! And we know that we will be resurrected as well. Glory to God! This is all great news! Maybe for the first time in our lives, we realize that this is too much good news to celebrate all in one day. That's how God works sometimes, don't you agree? We don't get instant answers...we are confused...we might even be angry...we try to make sense out of the difficult places in our lives...but then, like a rushing wind blowing through a gathering place, we realize anew that the important thing is that Jesus has risen...and so shall we! Happy Easter...still!

-Brenda

For Easter this year, the CE committee sent a book and activities to the families in our congregation. The book, This is the Church by Sarah Raymond Cunningham, includes the following verse:

*And not all churches have roofs or floors.
Some don't have steeples, some don't have doors.
Some people have church under the stars,
and God comes and meets them right where they are.*

I hope that as you gather with us in what ever way that may be, that you know that God comes and meets you right where you are!

Jesus Calling®

Devotions for every Day of the year by Sarah Young – April 20th

DO NOT BE AFRAID, for I am with you. Hear Me saying Peace, be still to your restless heart. No matter what happens, I will never leave you or forsake you. Let this assurance soak into your mind and heart, until you overflow with Joy. Though the earth give way and the mountains fall into the heart of the sea, you need not fear!

The media relentlessly proclaim bad news: for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. A steady diet of their fare will sicken you. Instead of focusing on fickle, ever-changing news broadcasts, tune in to the living Word- the One who is always the same. Let Scripture saturate your mind and heart, and you will walk steadily along the path of Life. Even though you don't know what will happen tomorrow, you can be absolutely sure of your ultimate destination. I hold you by your right hand, and afterward I will take you into Glory.

RECOMMEND BIBLE VERSES:

Mark 4:39 NLT

39 When Jesus woke up, he rebuked the wind and said to the waves, "Silence! Be still!" Suddenly the wind stopped, and there was a great calm.

Deuteronomy 31:6 NLT

6 So be strong and courageous! Do not be afraid and do not panic before them. For the LORD your God will personally go ahead of you. He will neither fail you nor abandon you."

Psalm 46:2 NLT

2 So we will not fear when earthquakes come and the mountains crumble into the sea.

Psalm 73:23-24 NLT

23 Yet I still belong to you; you hold my right hand. 24 You guide me with your counsel, leading me to a glorious destiny.

When I read this on Monday, April 20th, I was immediately amazed with how meaningful and appropriate it was for the times we are experiencing these days in 2020 because of COVID-19. Jesus Calling was published in 2004 and for the last 16 years people have been reading this devotion each April 20th. I wonder if it has ever been as inspiring as it was this year. I hope it provides as much comfort to you as it did to me.

Blessings to all, Roy

“Please watch for news regarding which events will occur when we are no longer prohibited from face-to-face gatherings.”
